Old Bill liked to keep fit. Every morning he swam in the sea. One day when he arrived at Deep Water Bay, a man in a yellow and red vest ran up to him. ‘Don’t go in the water! There’s a shark out there,’ warned the lifeguard. ‘It was in the news yesterday.’

Old Bill thought, ‘I’m not afraid of sharks.’ He thought he was as 1. _____ as a lion. So he went swimming as usual. He ran into the water and began to swim away from the shore. Swimming as 2. _____ as a dolphin, he was soon out of sight.

Old Bill was swimming freely in the water until suddenly, a huge shark appeared. ‘What are you doing in the water, silly man?’ asked the shark. ‘Why didn’t you listen to that man on the beach? He said you shouldn’t come into the water.’ Old Bill was as shaking inside. He was as 3. _____ as a mouse. However, he tried to stay calm. ‘Please don’t eat me,’ he said. ‘Why not?’ asked the shark. ‘Because I believe sharks are kind creatures,’ replied Old Bill. ‘You have sharp teeth. Although you look as 4. _____ as a tiger, you don’t eat people. You understand a lot of things. You’re a 5. _____ and beautiful animal. I love sharks,’ continued Old Bill.

‘You’re right,’ agreed the shark. ‘Now go back to the shore.’ Old Bill swam back as fast as he could. ‘Phew!’ he thought. ‘It’s lucky that sharks are vain! They are as 6. _____ as a peacock. They always think they’re much better than everyone else.’
